

Kreativfabrik Wiesbaden e.V.

KREA.

Description of the local group:

The Kreativfabrik (Creative Factory) is an active part of the cultural scene in Wiesbaden. The association runs a cultural centre on the site of the former slaughterhouse. The Kreativfabrik organises a diverse program of events. It also rents inexpensive rehearsal rooms to young bands from Wiesbaden. Initiatives and groups can also use the Kreativfabrik.

The association originated from the Cultural Park Initiative. This initiative has worked to ensure that the site of the old slaughterhouse is used for culture and leisure. That is why the Kreativfabrik still participates in the cultural park.

The Kreativfabrik believes that there are a lot of young people in Wiesbaden with lots of good ideas.

These ideas need a place where they can be tried out and put into practice. Even if these ideas do not bring money or only a few find the ideas good. The Kreativfabrik wants to be a place for such ideas.

Who we are:

We are an association with many different people, but we all have something in common: we are in love with culture.

We are sometimes very chaotic and sometimes very organised. With this mix, we work voluntarily for our cultural centre.

"Chaotic" describes the many individual and unique ideas that we have accomplished in Wiesbaden.

"Organised" describes our democratic structure.

The basis of our organisation is our general meeting of the members.

The general meeting instructs the management board to implement the ideas of the association. There is also a small, paid team for everyday work. There are also many helpers who look after the events in the evenings and at night. Actually, the barrel is always overflowing, but somehow we like that too.

What we do:

Diversity is the basis of our program. Some weekends feature a party with electronic dance music on a Friday after a theatre play. On Saturday there may be a rock concert and at the same time a private birthday on the upper floor.

And on Sundays, teenagers have a DJ workshop. At the same time, children in wheelchairs learn to skate in the skate hall.

We are a crazy, living Kreativfabrik. A lot of things happen in this house at the same time. A new surprise is waiting behind every door. You can literally smell the creativity that squeezes out of all the pores of our little house.

Guests and artists find our house cosy and spontaneous.

Nevertheless, things are always changing. You are sure to see something new if you haven't been to our house for a long time.

How can I participate?

We are happy to welcome everyone who wants to join us. There is a lot to do at events. You can help at the counter, at the entrance or with the technology. If you suit our day team, we can also offer you an internship!

If you have a general interest in working in the association or in the event field, simply register yourself at mascha@kreativfabrik-wiesbaden.de.

We are also happy to have sustaining members who like our ideas. Every little amount of money helps.
